Risks associated with investments in equity and equity linked securities.

- Equity and equity related securities by nature are volatile and prone to price fluctuations on a daily basis due to both macro and micro factors.
- Execution of investment strategies depends upon the ability of the Portfolio Manager to identify opportunities which may not be always available and that the decisions made by the Portfolio Manager may not always be profitable.
- In domestic markets, there may be risks associated with trading volumes, settlement periods and transfer procedures that may restrict liquidity of investments in equity and equity related securities.
- In the event of inordinately low volumes, there may be delays with respect to unwinding the Portfolio and transferring the redemption proceeds.
- The value of the Portfolio, may be affected generally by factors affecting securities markets, such as price and volume volatility in the capital markets, interest rates, currency exchange rates, changes in policies of the Government, taxation laws or policies of any appropriate authority and other political and economic developments and closure of stock exchanges which may have an adverse bearing on individual securities, a specific sector or all sectors including equity and debt markets. Consequently, the Portfolio valuation may fluctuate and can go up or down.
- Investors may note that Portfolio Manager's investment decisions may not always be profitable, as actual market movements may be at variance with anticipated trends.

Risks associated with investments in fixed income Securities/products

Some of the common risks associated with investments in fixed income and money market Securities are mentioned below. These risks include but are not restricted to:

- Interest Rate Risk: As with all debt securities, changes in interest rates affects the valuation of the portfolios, as the prices of securities generally increase as interest rates decline and generally decrease as interest rates rise. Prices of longer-term securities generally fluctuate more in response to interest rate changes than do shorter- term securities. Interest rate movements in the Indian debt markets can be volatile leading to the possibility of large price movements up or down in debt and money market securities and thereby to possibly large movements in the valuation of portfolios.
- Liquidity or Marketability Risk: This refers to the ease at which a security can be sold at or near its true value. The primary measure of liquidity risk is the spread between the bid price and the offer price quoted by a dealer. Liquidity risk is characteristic of the Indian fixed income market.
- Credit Risk: Credit risk or default risk refers to the risk which may arise due to default on the part of the issuer of the fixed income security (i.e. risk that the issuer will be unable to make timely principal and interest payments on the security). Because of this risk, debentures are sold at a yield spread above those offered on Treasury securities, which are sovereign obligations and generally considered to be free of credit risk. Normally, the value of a fixed income security will fluctuate depending upon the actual changes in the perceived level of credit risk as well as the actual event of default.
- Reinvestment Risk: Investments in fixed income securities may carry reinvestment risk as interest rates prevailing on the interest or maturity due dates may differ from the original coupon of the bond. Consequently, the proceeds may get invested at a lower rate.
- Rating risks: Different types of debt securities in which the Client invests, may carry different levels and types of risk. Accordingly, the risk may increase or decrease depending upon its investment pattern, for instance corporate bonds carry a higher amount of risk than Government securities. Further even among corporate bonds, bonds, which are AA rated, are comparatively more risky than bonds, which are AAA rated.

- Price volatility risk: Debt securities may also be subject to price volatility due to factors such as changes in interest rates, general level of market liquidity and market perception of the creditworthiness of the issuer, among others (market risk). The market for these Securities may be less liquid than that for other higher rated or more widely followed Securities.

Risks related to investments in SMEs

- Uncertainty of Net Asset Value: There is no single standard for determining fair value in good faith. Determining fair value requires that judgment be applied to the specific facts and circumstances of each Portfolio Investment while applying a valuation process for the types of investments the PMS make, which includes but is not limited to deriving a hypothetical exit price. Because such valuations are inherently uncertain and may be based on estimates, the determinations of fair value may differ materially from the values that would be assessed if a ready market for these securities existed. Any changes in fair value are recorded in the statement of operations as net change in unrealized appreciation or depreciation. The net asset value could be adversely affected if the determinations regarding the fair value of the Investments were materially higher than the values that the PMS ultimately realize upon the disposal of such Securities.
- Risk of investing in SME Stocks: Investment in SME stocks are considered to be high risk-high return instruments. SMEs are high risk due to their small capital structure and lack of transparency since most of the companies in the segment have a short track record and/or are small. The companies typically are family businesses converted to corporate structure or are first-time entrepreneurs, so, it is tough to precisely enumerate risks related to achieving their growth potential. Thus, SEBI has kept the minimum trading value of INR 1 lacs. Although, there are various risk associated to the SME stocks, they have the capacity to provide superior returns to the investors in long run.
- Corporate disclosure and corporate governance standards on SME exchanges: Disclosure and corporate governance standards on SME exchanges are not as comprehensive as the companies that are listed on the recognized stock exchanges (hereinafter referred to as 'main board'). The responsibility to comply with the corporate governance standards prescribed by the securities market regulator is not as detailed and stringent as applicable to the companies listed on the main board.
- Investments on Indian SME Markets: SME markets are volatile and may decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market or economic developments. There may be instances wherein there is rapid and volatile fall in security prices occurring within an extremely short period, like in the nature of flash crash etc. Different parts of the market and different types of equity securities may react differently to these developments. Issuer, political or economic developments may affect a single issuer, issuers within an industry, sector or geographic region, or the market.

Securities listed on Indian SME exchanges may have low market capitalization and trading volume. Further, such volatility could also create liability on the PMS to bring in additional margin. There can be no assurance that sales on the Indian SME exchanges will provide a viable exit mechanism for the investments.

Risks relating to investments in listed securities

- Indian Securities Markets: Stock markets are volatile and may decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market or economic developments. Different parts of the market and different types of equity securities may react differently to these developments. For example, small cap stocks may react differently than large cap stocks. Issuer, political or economic developments may affect a single issuer, issuers within an industry, sector or geographic region, or the market.

Securities listed on Indian stock exchanges may have low market capitalization and trading volume. There can be no assurance that sales on the Indian stock exchanges will provide a viable exit mechanism for the Investments.

Indian stock exchanges utilize 'circuit breaker' systems under which trading in particular stocks or entire trading could potentially be suspended on account of excessive volatility in a stock or on the market. Such disruptions could significantly impact on the ability of the Portfolio Manager to sell its investments. Factors like these could adversely affect the PMS performance.

Mutual Fund Risk: This risk arises from investing in units of Mutual funds. Risk factors inherent to equities and debt securities are also applicable to investments in mutual fund units. Further, scheme specific risk factors of each such underlying scheme, including performance of their underlying stocks, derivatives instruments, stock lending, off-shore investments etc., will be applicable in the case of investments in mutual fund units. In addition, events like change in fund manager of the scheme, take over, mergers and other changes in status and constitution of mutual funds, foreclosure of schemes or plans, change in government policies could affect performance of the investment in mutual fund units. The Client shall bear recurring expenses of the Portfolio in addition to the expenses of the underlying mutual fund schemes. Hence the client may receive lower pretax returns compared to what he may receive had he invested directly in the underlying mutual fund scheme is the same proportions.

Other risks in relation to investment in Securities/Instruments

- The in-specie distribution of the Securities by the Portfolio Manager upon termination or liquidation of the Client Portfolio could consist of such Securities for which there may not be a readily available public market. Further, in such cases the Portfolio Manager may not be able transfer any of the interests, rights or obligations with respect to such Securities except as may be specifically provided in the Agreement with Portfolio Entities. If an in-specie distribution is received by the Clients from the Portfolio Manager, the Clients may have restrictions on disposal of assets so distributed and consequently may not be able to realize full value of these assets.

Some of the Portfolio Entities in which the Portfolio Manager will invest may get their Securities listed with the stock exchange after the investment by the Portfolio Manager. In connection with such listing, the Portfolio Manager may be required to agree not to dispose of its securities in the Portfolio Entity for such period as may be prescribed under the Applicable Law, or there may be certain investments made by the Portfolio Manager which are subject to a statutory period of non-disposal and hence Portfolio Manager may not be able to dispose of such investments prior to completion of such prescribed regulatory tenures and hence may result in illiquidity.

A part of the Client Portfolio may be invested in listed securities and as such may be subject to the market risk associated with the vagaries of the capital market.

➤ Risks associated with the investment approach

Company Risk: Investing via Mutual Fund portfolios mitigates the company risk to a great extent. The prudent SEBI stock guidelines for Mutual Fund restricts fund managers from taking exposure beyond a threshold. This ensures that the company risk remains very low.

Valuation Risk: Mutual Fund invests in large diversified stock pool, this to a great extent reduces the valuation risk. Having said that some growth oriented mutual fund schemes may be available at a higher portfolio PE level. Those schemes will be added for the based on client risk profile or in a lower proportion to keep the overall valuation risk muted. The asset allocation strategies will also bring down the valuation risk to some extent.

Market Risk: Broader market movements risk remains across all equity funds portfolio, we will try to limit it by picking schemes that have demonstrated lower drawdown risks in bad market conditions.

Liquidity Risk: Most mutual fund investments are liquid in nature. Having said that, it does come with some exit load and tax implications. We will try to maintain some part of the portfolio in liquid or arbitrage as a part of the strategy to ensure that the client's liquidity needs are maintained.

Concentration Risk: We will ensure adequate diversification is maintained thereby mitigating the concentration risk. We will strongly measure stock overlap portfolio to ensure that we minimize the concentration risk.

➤ Other salient features, if any.

Fiduciary responsibility: This helps us in following client fiduciary responsibility by cutting out the conflict of interest. We will not get paid by the manufacturers. The model portfolio will include scheme that are aligned to client's interest.

Lower Expense Ratio: The entire objective of creating a mutual fund strategy that invests in direct mutual fund scheme is to pass down the full benefit of lower expense ratios to clients.

Rebalancing of Portfolios: Asset allocation are the holy grail of investing. Portfolios are customized and dynamically rebalanced based on risk profile, time horizon, and market trends. The disciplined approach of asset allocation will help creating long term wealth.

Transparency: Complies with SEBI PMS regulations and ensures complete transparency in execution. No embedded distributor commissions. Fees are charged on an AUM basis or as agreed with the client in the PMS agreement.
