5. Roles and Responsibilities

The Dealing Team shall execute trades strictly based on instructions received from the designated Fund Manager or authorized personnel. Dealers shall not independently initiate trades without proper authorization. All orders must be recorded with details such as time of order placement, security name, quantity, price, and client allocation instructions.

The Compliance Officer shall monitor adherence to this Policy and conduct periodic reviews of dealing activities.

6. Best Execution Policy

The Dealing Team shall ensure that all trades are executed on the best available terms, taking into account price, cost, speed, likelihood of execution, settlement efficiency, and market impact. Broker selection shall be based on objective criteria such as execution capability, research support, financial stability, and regulatory standing.

No trade shall be directed to any broker in consideration of any undue benefit or arrangement that may compromise client interest.

7. Order Management and Allocation

All orders shall be entered promptly and accurately. Where aggregated orders are placed for multiple client portfolios, allocation shall be carried out on a fair and equitable basis, following a predefined allocation methodology. Allocation decisions shall be documented and shall not favor any particular client.

Partial fills shall be distributed proportionately unless otherwise justified and documented.

8. Prevention of Front Running and Insider Trading

Dealers shall strictly refrain from front running, insider trading, or misuse of unpublished price-sensitive information. The Dealing Team shall operate in coordination with the firm's internal code of conduct and insider trading policy. Access to sensitive information shall be restricted on a need-to-know basis.

Employee personal trades shall be subject to pre-clearance and monitoring to prevent any conflict with client transactions.

9. Segregation of Duties

The functions of investment decision-making, trade execution, confirmation, settlement, and reconciliation shall be segregated to reduce operational risk. Appropriate maker-checker controls shall be implemented to prevent errors and unauthorized transactions.

10. Record Keeping and Documentation

The Portfolio Manager shall maintain detailed records of:

- Trade instructions
- Order placement details
- Broker confirmations
- Allocation records
- Contract notes
- Settlement records

All records shall be maintained in accordance with regulatory requirements and shall be available for audit and inspection.

11. Monitoring and Surveillance

Periodic internal reviews shall be conducted to monitor trade patterns, broker concentration, pricing efficiency, and adherence to allocation policies. Any unusual trading activity shall be escalated to senior management and investigated promptly.

12. Communication Protocol

Dealers shall accept trade instructions only from authorized personnel through approved communication channels. Informal or undocumented instructions shall not be acted upon. All telephonic instructions, where applicable, shall be recorded and preserved as per regulatory norms.

13. Business Continuity

The Dealing Team shall function in accordance with the firm's Business Continuity Plan (BCP) to ensure uninterrupted execution capability during system failures or unforeseen disruptions.

14. Review of Policy

This Policy shall be reviewed at least annually or earlier in case of regulatory changes or operational requirements. Any amendments shall be approved by the Board or designated authority.
